(Bandung, 18/03) The handover of immunization history book in Indonesia by I Nyoman Kandun from Indonesia Epidemiology Association (IEA) to Bio Farma Head of Surveillance & Clinical Trial Novilia S Bachtiar, accompanied by Bio Farma Corporate Secretary M. Rahman Roestan, was conducted on Tuesday, 18 March 2014.

According to I Nyoman Kandun, the book is a pride to Indonesia for having a world-class local vaccine manufacturer. Bio Farma takes a significant part in Indonesia’s vaccine development history. “We hope this book can help make Indonesians proud to have a world-class vaccine producer that participates in immunization program both in Indonesia and globally”, said Nyoman. Besides, M Rahman Roestan added that this book will also become an educational tool since the availability of a book on vaccine in Indonesia is still limited until now. “Bio Farma expects that this book can be a useful reference and educational tool for Indonesian people”. Rahman also explained that in welcoming the World Immunization Week 2014 in the last week of April 2014, Bio Farma will prepare various programs including a workshop that invites some media partners using the immunization history book as a reference.
